Dear Jack,

How are you doing? Last time you told me that you are interested in the trip to Mui Wo Nature Park. I am going to tell you the details of it. The field trip is on Mui Wo. First, let me remind you of the things we need to take: Binoculars, some writing materials, a bag for collecting samples, a mobile phone, water, food and a camera. When we arrive the park, there are few tasks we need to complete. First, take the path on the right side of the entrance and enter the woods. Here we will observe and take pictures of five kinds of butterflies. We do this because we are going to compare these species of butterflies.

Next, we walk on and turn left at a junction and we will come to a valley. Here we will observe and take pictures of vegetation. We do this because we are going to show the pictures of vegetation to our classmates in class. After visiting the valley, we go southwards and visit a rocky beach. Here we can find different kinds of rocks. We need to collect rock samples. We do this because we are going to do a presentation on different types of rock samples.

In fact, there are several rules we need to follow. We are reminded not to damage the plants like should not hurt the butterflies. We should not draw on rocks and litter. But we should be punctual.

Finally, we can meet at Central Pier 6 at nine o'clock in the morning.

Love,
Sammy
