

Ban on Mobile Phone at School

Dear Editor,

Mobile phone is very important for us to communicate with other people in our daily lives. We bring our mobile phones everywhere. It seems that people cannot live without mobiles. Recently, our school banned students from bringing mobile phones to school in order to provide the best study environment for us. In my opinion, it is a good approach. There are three obvious reasons why it is essential to forbid students bringing mobile phones to school.

First of all, it will be more effective for students to concentrate on studying. Many students will use their mobile phones during the lessons. They may play games, listen to music, send messages or chat with others. Then of course students cannot focus on learning. Also, it will affect our study environment. For example, if the phone rings during the lesson, it will disturb other students. It is said that the ban can prevent students from using mobile phones during the lesson.

Moreover, bringing mobile phones to school may increase the number of crimes in school. It is because many students will not take care of their belongings. Others may take this chance to steal the mobile phones. Then they can sell the phones to make money.

Last but not least, it is too dangerous that the personal information of students may be leaked out from their mobile phones. There are many functions in our mobile phones. We can save pictures in the photo album. If you lose your mobile phone, others may see all your personal information from the mobile. In more serious cases, they may even upload the photos to the Internet.

All in all, it is believed that the ban will help improve student's learning environment.

Yours faithfully,
