Hi Kitty,

How are you?

I found some information about a wonderful Chinese person, and the person I suggest is Lang Lang. I think you have heard of him. He's middle height, a little bit chubby, and he got short, black hair. He is hardworking, cheerful, and he sometimes is hilarious too. He's a well-known person around the world because of his fantastic, flawless piano skill.

He's a piano genius. At the age of two, he watched the Tom and Jerry and he could play it without anyone's teaching, so his father (he's a musician) took him to learn piano when he was three. And when he was five, he won first place at the Shenyang Piano Competition and performed his first public recital. He has won many awards and outreach. He has received numerous awards and has been seen by millions of television viewers throughout the world. And in June 2011, he became a global ambassador of Telefonica. On 24th August 2012, he was awarded the Cross of Merit of the Federal Republic of Germany for his engagement in the Schleswig Holstein Musik Festival.

I believe Lang Lang is a wonderful person because he followed his dream. He is talented and he never gives up, even though the piano career is really hard, he doesn't give up because he loves piano.

His future plan is to work much harder and make out more albums for the audiences, and have more concerts making his songs even more popular.

Is that alright? I hope my information is helpful and hope you like my suggestion.

Love,
Emily
