

Dear Editor,

We can always see that there are abandoned animals on the street. I want to take this chance to raise the attention of the public on this problem and ask for animal adoption.

There are some reasons for the abandoned animals. Some people just like to follow the trend. When the trend changes, these people will lose their interest in the pets soon. Also, people don't think twice before they buy the pets. They may not have time, money, space or patience to take care of their pets.

Adopting animals from The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (SPCA) is a good idea. It is because abandoned animals are as good as those in pet shops. Also, we can give the abandoned animals a warm home and give them a better life. Although the SPCA keeps abandoned animals, they cannot keep too many animals, so abandoned animals may be destroyed if no one adopts them. However, we could save their lives by adopting them. And adopting abandoned animals can make the owner happy. They can be friends with the owner. This can help the animals to get away from their terrible past too.

Abandoned animals should be concerned because many irresponsible owners abandoned them, leaving the animals in an undesirable environment. Some abandoned animals are even injured. So we should adopt abandoned animals if we have the ability to do so.

We should support animal adoption so they could have a better life.

Yours faithfully,

Dennis
